ARTIFICIAL NOSES

Professional taxidermists constantly depend on their ingenuity to save time and money. Along with their ability to produce quality work, time/costs savings are their keys to success.

Think about the time it takes to flesh out the real nose, fit it to the form and then reconstruct it to the natural look with an epoxy.

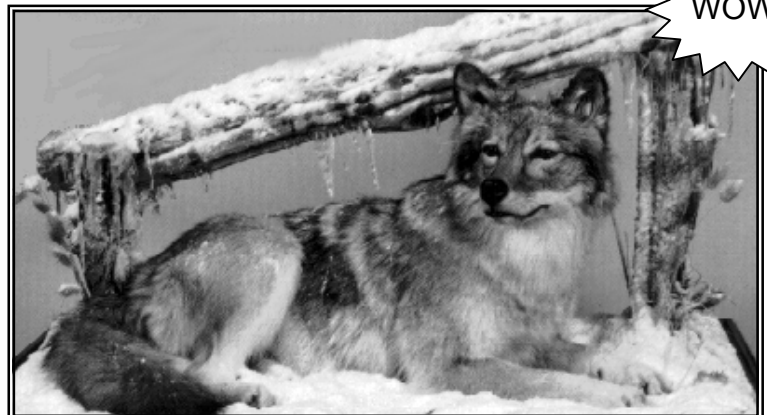

Believe us we have tried these noses and admit we had some apprehension that it would be difficult to get a natural fit of the skin to the artificial nose and that the finish would look artificial. We really can't say enough about the quality of the finished look, and best of all we are certain your customers will be impressed.

These noses are exact in every detail and once painted they surpass the natural look of any reconstructed nose. Note: All noses are unpainted.

NEW! BRAD EPPLEY WHITETAIL EAR-TECH SYSTEM

This new earliner system from World Champion Brad Eppley sets a new standard for quality commercial earliners. Manufactured from a special translucent flexible plastic, they are the proper thickness, the perfect color, the exact shape, and delicately veined for shorter haired deer and competition work. And now Brad has introduced a new development with his revolutionary new Ear-Tech ear bases. Molded in pink plastic, these ear bases are available with or without inner ear detail. The bases are securely attached to the mannikin with two Grabber (or drywall) screws. The area around the base is feathered with Bondo or mache. After the ears are mounted on the earliners, they snap into the correct position over the ear bases, secured with a touch of hot-melt glue. This allows greater accuracy, speed, and ease of taxiing the earbutt skin for perfect results every time. When using the inner ear detail bases, simply leave a hole in the bottom of the ear skin for the base to show through. The earliners may be used with or without these new Ear-Tech bases. These whitetail earliners are now manufactured with the ear butts in place (in a forward alert position) to save you time.

WHITETAIL EARLINERS WITH INNER EAR DETAIL

These outstanding plastic earliners from Brad Eppley do not include the earbutt for freedom in posing. The inner ear detail is completely molded in, so no skin or cartilage is required. Translucent pink color with veins on outer ear.

SPEED SEPTUM SYSTEM

From taxidermist Boxie Kallina comes this new idea for creating artificial septums that is easy, inexpensive, and looks great! Works on any whitetail sized animal. Kit includes instructions, special tool and enough Speed Septum material to do 20 heads. Note: *The new Antelope/Sheep septum tool is flatter and thinner to better accommodate the narrow septum wall of these species. Also works excellent on deer.
